

RUSSIA WAITS DEFINITE PLANS

Meagre Reports Of A Naval Fight Have Come In, But Nothing Definite Is Known

COLLIERS JOINED ROJESTVENSKY

It Is Now Thought He Will Begin Crossing the China Sea And Search For The Fleet Of Togo.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]
London, April 11.—A dispatch from Singapore says four large steamers, apparently colliers, passed Singapore this morning, going eastward. It is believed the vessels are the advance guard of sixteen German vessels chartered by the Russians as supply ships to the Baltic squadron. It is supposed Rojestsvensky is awaiting the arrival of this fleet before trying to cross the China sea.

Close a Port
Washington, April 11.—A dispatch from Minister Griscorn at Tokyo states the Japanese government has closed the port of Kelung, at the northern end of the Island of Formosa to aid the foreign ships. This action indicates that Kelung will be used by Togo as a base for his fleet.

Are Not Divided
London, April 11.—The correspondent of the London Daily Mail at Singapore says that the Russian fleet which passed there Sunday included seven battleships, not one, as previously stated. The correspondent says that the statement is confused.

By the official harbor report, by the naval authorities in the fortress and also by the Japanese consul, who proceeded in a launch to close proximity with the fleet and identified the ships one by one as they passed. The Mail takes this as disproving the statement that Rojestsvensky is not with the fleet.

Japs Pick Battleground.
The correspondent of the Express at Tokyo says it is believed there if Rojestsvensky steams north in the direction of Vladivostok Togo will probably allow him to proceed some distance with no further molestation than an occasional torpedo attack and give battle off the Pescadore. That would be ideal fighting ground for the Japanese, inasmuch as they have a naval base in the islands. On the other hand, it is thought extremely likely that the Russians may attempt to seize a temporary base somewhere in the southern Pacific, in Indo-China or the Dutch Islands. A leading Japanese paper likens the Russians to insects flying into the fire.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]
Fort Worth, Texas, April 11.—As no word was received from the President's camp overnight, Secretary Loeb takes it for granted that all is going well with the hunting party.

Brave Teddy
Lawton, Ok., April 11.—Cowboys from the Burnett camp are expected in today with further reports of the success of the President's hunting party. The President rides a large black horse supplied by Waggoner & Burnett. His hunting attire consists of light woolen trousers, a corduroy coat, and black cotton shirt and a white broad brimmed hat. Early Sunday morning, while out exercising, the President encountered a rattlesnake coiled in the grass. Leaping from his horse he killed it with the butt of his whip.

WARNER STIRS PENSION BOARDS BY HIS QUESTION

The New Pension Agent Goes For Men Who Pass Impostors For Pen- sions.

Washington, April 11.—Pension Commissioner Vespasian Warner of Illinois created consternation in his department Monday when he let it be known he had issued an order citing ten members of the board of pension review to show cause why they should not be dismissed for irregularities and slipshod methods in passing upon cases brought to their official attention.

Commissioner Warner has been at the head of the pension bureau less than sixty days, but he has been getting after the details of his department's business in a manner that presaged a shakeup.

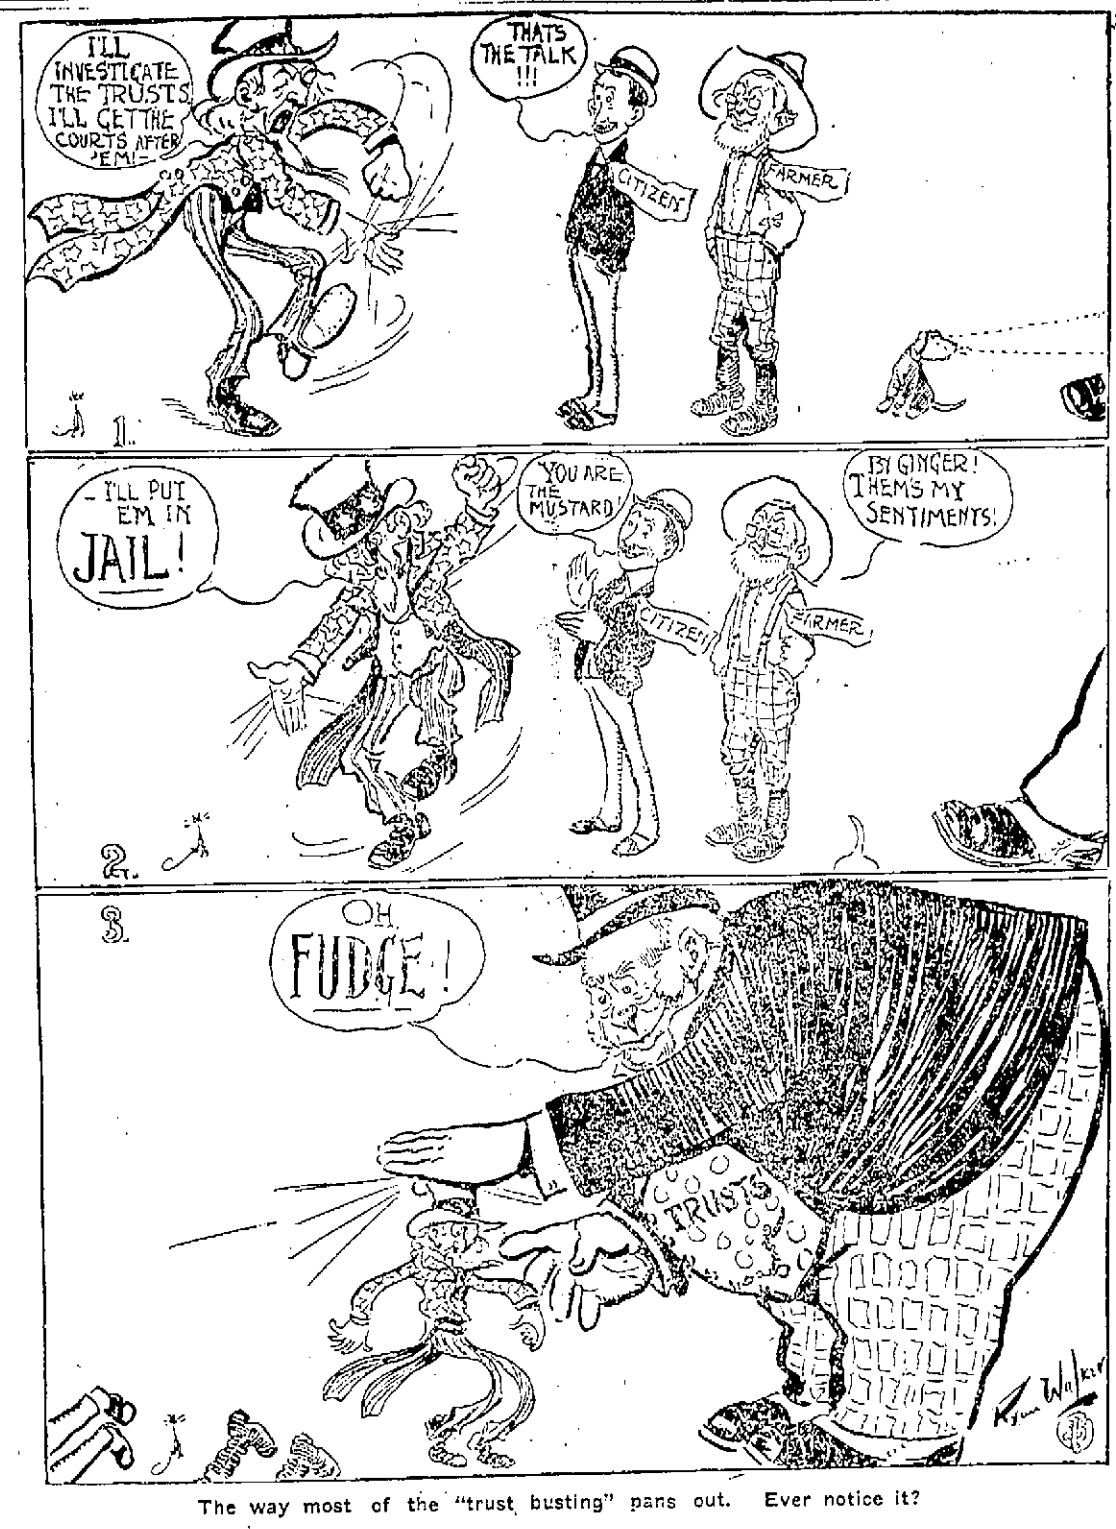

Mr. Warner is after the members of the board of review for passing applications for pensions from persons who were never in the government service. In 1861 a regiment of Pennsylvania militia was organized at Erie and at the time of the call for three months men the regiment went into camp at Pittsburg. The men arrived too late to be accepted, however, as the quota for Pennsylvania had been filled. Some members of the regiment enlisted in other organizations, while most of them remained in camp for some time and then went to their homes.

On 3 the men applied for a pension several years ago and when the case was carried to the highest authority it was decided that the regiment was not eligible to pensions.

Last spring, however, another member of the regiment filed an application that was granted, and later on other applications were made and allowed until six members in all were on the pension rolls. The last claim was allowed in February. The rejection of the claim of another member of the regiment and his protest at being turned down when other members had been pensioned led to an investigation.

Similar Cases Elsewhere.
It was disclosed that two claims in the First regiment in Mercer's brigade of New Jersey national guards had been allowed and that this regiment occupied the same status as that from Pennsylvania.

The members of the board of review have not made answer to Mr. Warner's demand that they show cause why they should not be dismissed, and it is not known what action the commissioner will take. He declared in emphatic terms, however, that such irregularities should be stopped in his department and expressed the opinion that perhaps the most effective way to put an end to such carelessness and slipshod methods would be to make an example of the men who had been found delinquent.

Permanent Court of Arbitration.
[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]
Chicago, April 11.—Twenty representatives of the labor unions involved in the strike against the Montgomery Ward & Co., called on Mayor Dunne and offered to submit their grievances to arbitration. Dunne expressed his willingness to appoint arbitrators for an approved permanent court of arbitration of labor difficulties. The mayor warned the union against breaches of peace and announced his intention to preserve order at any cost. Meantime two caravans of wagons, moving through the streets to the freight-houses, were assailed by missiles of every description. The police have made several arrests.

ASSEMBLY HAS SHOWN POWER

The Administration Railway Rate Commission Bill Passes To Its Third Reading.

MANY MEMBERS PAIRED IN VOTE

An Appointive Not An Elective Board, Will Be Con- stituted--Bill May Not Pass The Senate.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., April 11.—By the decisive vote of 51 to 10 the assembly advanced to its third reading the administration railroad rate commission bill. The only members voting against it were Messrs. Baker, Brooks, Everett, Hanson, Frank Johnson, Page, Racel, Ramsey, Reynolds, and Szmarek. Durand voted "no" but changed. Norcross was against the bill and paired with Thayer. Speaker Lamont left his chair to Assemblyman Levey and led the debate on the floor for the administration. Page, a stalwart of Milwaukee, proposed amendments to lessen the power of the commission. It was defeated 22 to 71. Crowley, a democrat of Milwaukee, proposed an elective commission amendment. It was defeated 33 to 59. Clear, a democrat and La Follette man, also proposed an elective commission amendment, which was also defeated. Many members are in favor of elective commission voted in the affirmative on the final roll-call, explaining that they chose the less of the evils.

In the Senate
The senate postponed in consideration of a Frear resolution to investigate Barney Eaton on account of his absence and sickness of the indicted senator. The general character of comment on action of the assembly on the railroad bill is that only an elective commission can pass the senate.

Goes Slowly
The legislature took a leisurely, slow start on the week's business.

The senate had a goodly calendar, but after calling the roll adjourned until this morning. Lieutenant Governor Davidson was absent, as was also, President protem McGillivray, and Senator Munson occupied the chair.

Four Measures
The assembly passed four measures, advanced several, killed seven, and laid over the remainder of the calendar. Among the bills passed was the Aldridge bill to enlarge the limitation of the amount which can be recovered as damages for death by wrongful act. The McGillivray joint resolution to submit to the people a constitutional amendment to allow the state to appropriate money for the building of roads, was concurred in. The Warner civil service bill, as amended by the committees on judiciary and claims, was on the calendar for advancement to third reading and engrossment, but was laid over until a week from today.

Railway Bill
The railroad rate commission bill comes up in the assembly this morning and the matter of Senator Eaton will make its appearance in the senate on the resolution of Senator Frear to have him take leave of absence and go to Milwaukee for trial on the two remaining indictments for bribery, or institute a senatorial committee to investigate his alleged reflections on the senate, to the effect that much important legislation is determined in wine rooms and hotels.

JOHN WARD WAS MUTUALS' PITCHER

FAMOUS AGGREGATION OF PLAYERS OF YEAR SEVENTY-SEVEN.

THE HEY DAY OF ITS GLORY

How Ward Struck Out Pop Anson—Even Spaulding Was a Ready Victim.

(By Frank L. Smith.)

August 14th the Allegheny's of Pittsburgh, leaders in the International League, were due here for a game, and in order to get our boys in good condition for the contest they were sent to Madison on the day previous where they won a game in the morning 13 to 1 and took in the regatta in the afternoon. The Allegheny's won the game (Ward's first defeat) making fifteen runs on nine base hits, and eighteen errors by Mutuals, while the latter made three runs on eight base hits and five errors by the Pittsburgh boys. Bliss played his only poor game of the season, making four bad errors, while Shoupe on second base was charged with five. If Dodel had given such an exhibition there would have been an uprising on the seats. Williams, afterwards a member of Chicago, stone-walled infield caught for Pittsburgh in this game. Three days later the same club played another game here and this time the Mutuals redeemed themselves, backing Ward up in good style and winning by 3 to 1.

Runs earned—Mutuals, 2. 3-base hits—Shoupe, Dallmyer, Nelson and Goodman.

It will be noticed that Phillips, late first baseman of the Minneapolis club, played left field in this game. In the sixth inning the Mutuals made a tripple play which possibly saved them the game. Goodman opened with a base hit, followed by McKelvey with another, sending Goodman to second. Nelson, a left-hander, batted a low line fly, which Dallmyer nabbed, then stepped on his base and threw to second, catching Goodman half way to third and checking a rally at the bat that might have resulted disastrously. Galvin's pitching was the swiftest ever seen on the grounds and no man ever worked harder for victory, yet he struck out but three of the Mutuals, while Ward had seven victims to his credit.

August 16th the celebrated White Stocking League club of Chicago came here to see what this young man Ward looked like, and incidentally size up Bushong and a few of the other players. McVey, who led off for Chicago caught the first ball pitched on the end of his bat, making a beautiful line hit over the left field fence, and the ball is supposed to be still rolling—very still. Of course the batter registered a home run and the game was considered all over, but Ward had simply given him an out curve which didn't curve as much as intended, and he made sure of Anson and Peters by striking them both out. Hines going out on a hit to Morrissey. Two more runs were scored in the second—inning on errors by Arundel and then the Mutuals settled, everything about their playing being good except the base running. Ordinarily on sixteen base hits, one of them a two bagger and another for three bases a dozen runs would have been scored, but a number were put out on bases and twelve of them left to walk to their positions. The Mutuals however, were lucky in their double plays, making three, one of which closed the game in brilliant fashion. It is worthy of note that the best batting by the Mutuals during the season was against the two league clubs.

Home runs—McVey.
3-base hit—Shoupe.
2-base hit—Morrissey.

The Mutuals earned three of their four runs made in the second inning. Once during the game with three of the Chicago on bases and two out. Spaulding came to bat and struck out with President Harburt at the backstop looking on and he was a bad loser, too. One of the brilliant features of the game was a running one hand catch by James in right field. Well, we got even with Chicago for that 74 to 5 defeat, in 1880, and with Spaulding for that 88 to 5 game in 1868 when he was pitching for the Forest City of Rockford.

August 18th the Mutuals again went to Milwaukee on short notice. Dallmyer, a new recruit from Philadelphia occupied first base in place of Brooke, who having had his visit out with Bushong and James, was ready to go back. Mr. Broadberg, a league umpire from Chicago officiated, and everything went off smoothly. Our boys again winning by 4 to 2—making seven hits and four errors while the Milwaukee crowd still unable to get on. Ward's curves, made but three hits and were guilty of eight mistakes. Our citizens were apprehensive of the result and upon receipt of telegram there was great cheering around headquarters. The St. Paul company kindly tendered an engine and coach with which to meet the boys at Milton Junction at midnight, and quite a number of people went up as a reception committee.

August 31st the Milwaukee club were here and defeated the Mutuals, 13 to 1, the latter giving a miserable exhibition, making 16 errors—five of them by Dallmyer on 1st and 4th by Morrissey on 3rd. They also made but four base hits, Ward getting two of those. The Milwaukee's played their usual consistent game, four being their total number of misplays, while the abundant opportunities enabled them to gather in eleven base hits. It did not seem possible that the Mutuals could ever again play as poor a game as this, but the next day at Milwaukee they were almost fifty per cent worse. Dallmyer being so bad that he was replaced on first by Phillips and the whole nine making twenty-two errors. There was no reasonable excuse for this kind of playing in which every one but Bliss took part and it was a sad blow to the stockholders, who were counting on increased gate receipts for the balance of the season. The final score was 16 to 2 in favor of Milwaukee. Dallmyer, who thought that Philadelphia was larger than Janesville on account of the greater number of "Huckster" wagons in that city, and to whom the details of his triple play against Pittsburgh could not be explained was allowed to go home and think the matter over. It is perhaps unnecessary to state that there were no brass bands, special trains, nor prominent citizens at Milton Junction that night to welcome the players. Another game was played in Milwaukee September 6th, and this time we were defeated 6 to 0—our boys making two hits and seven errors—the Milwaukee eleven hits and eight errors. Of this game the Sentinel remarked: "While the entire nine are to be praised for pounding three straight games out of the presumptuous Janesville boys, to the pitching and headwork of Weaver is due the lion's share of the credit." The paper was right as far as the batting of our nine was concerned, as Weaver had sent those swift in shoots at the batters until most of them were afraid to stand up to the plate. During the month of August another trip to Minnesota was partially arranged, but had to be given up on account of disbandment of St. Paul and Minneapolis clubs. As the state fair was to be held in this city during the second week of September and our park was on the direct route from the city to the grounds it looked as though we could draw a good crowd to games every day during the fair and arrangements were accordingly made with the Springfield Ill. Reds for the first two days and the Milwaukee's for the last two and final games of the season. The "Reds" had a good reputation but we disposed of them 17 to 3 and 11 to 1. Ward pitching both games, which was a great mistake, as he should have been saved for the Milwaukee club which we were more anxious to beat than any other in the country.

It will be noticed that Phillips, late first baseman of the Minneapolis club, played left field in this game. In the sixth inning the Mutuals made a tripple play which possibly saved them the game. Goodman opened with a base hit, followed by McKelvey with another, sending Goodman to second. Nelson, a left-hander, batted a low line fly, which Dallmyer nabbed, then stepped on his base and threw to second, catching Goodman half way to third and checking a rally at the bat that might have resulted disastrously. ALBERT VOBIAN IS RELIEVED OF $45

Fell into Hands of Footpads as He Nearing Home on South Academy Street Last Night.

Albert Vobian fell into the hands of the footpads last evening. It was about nine o'clock, when, just as he started to turn into his own yard at 303 South Academy street, two men seized him from behind. One quickly locked his arms behind him while the other with equal celerity proceeded to go through the victim's pockets and appropriate forty-five dollars. The highwaymen then departed and Vobian hastened to the police station to inform Marshal Comstock of what had happened. Officers Brown and Fanning at once searched that quarter of town and men of the out-of-the-way places where men of this stamp might be in hiding, but to no avail. Yesterday was payday at the Janesville Machine Co.'s plant and Vobian is employed and last night before proceeding homeward he spent considerable time in the Podewell saloon on North Academy street. Vobian was unable to give a clear description of either of his assailants. The police believe that the job was done by local talent.

ODD FELLOWS NEAR THE CENTURY MARK

Order Organized in 1819 Soon to Celebrate Anniversary—Over a Million in This Country.

On April 26 by far the larger part of the 11,000 lodges of Odd Fellows in this country and fourteen other lands, will celebrate the anniversary of the founding of the order, that date in 1819. This refers to the native day of the largest secret society in the world an offshoot of the great English Friendly society with a similar name.
The total membership in this country includes 1,200,000 men and in its Rebekah lodges, the feminine attachment, about 300,000 women. This reaching and effecting 1,500,000 people. The proportion in foreign lodges of American obedience is relatively small, but is steadily growing. April 26 is recalled each year with especial interest. It is worthy of attention by the general public, who may or may not be aware of the impulses for the good of humanity, cure of the widow and orphan, also suffering or destitute brother, set in motion at Baltimore nearly a century ago. These are animating a mighty organization of a million and a half, both men and women, who scattered across the continent, assemble in lodges at frequent intervals, hard upon the heels of churches and schools in the work for material as well as a spiritual uplifting of mankind.

WOODMEN CHOOSE THEIR DELEGATES

Elect Representatives to Picnic Association Meeting—May Decide on a Fall Festival

Delegates to the Southern Wisconsin and Northern Illinois Picnic association of the Modern Woodmen of America were elected by the Florence camp of this city last evening as follows: George Tanberg, O. S. Morse, E. C. Jones, and T. Donnelly; alternates—F. P. Starr, J. L. Harper, C. Caniff, and G. Barriage. The convention will be held in Beloit April 25 and at this meeting the date for the Woodmen picnic this year will be determined and the event for 1906 awarded to some city. The visitors there will be given a fine banquet, to be served by the Royal Neighbor camp of Beloit, and there will be other social features for the day.

Five Hundred Camps
It now seems a certainty that the picnic date this year will be made late in the autumn and that the event will be merged into a huge fall festival. The convention of the head camp in Milwaukee in June prevents the holding of the association meeting until late. Beloit will on the day fixed entertain the largest crowd that has ever visited the city, without doubt, the district embracing 500 camps in one of the strongest Woodmen communities in the country. Many of the camps like the Janesville lodge will send several delegates.

Freepoint Favored
There are already many indications that there will be a warm fight in the meetings here April 25 for the 1906 convention. Freepoint has been the first in the field and will for that reason have quite an advantage. The Business Men's association there has raised $2,000 for the picnic and will make a determined fight to get it. Several other cities have been mentioned, but Pretzville seems to have the lead.

The list of speakers for the convention has not yet been completed and will be announced by Secretary Love as soon as he secures the talent he has in prospect.

WILL DEADLY PEST COME TO CITY?

SPOTTED FEVER APPEARS IN IOWA TODAY.

TALK OF LOCAL PHYSICIANS

Black Death, It Has Been Called—Has Not Been Here for Over a Century.

(Special Telegram.)
Des Moines, April 11.—The first victims of spotted fever in Iowa were reported today as Eva Lambrecht of Clinton and Gladys Wilson of Sac City.

When shown the above dispatch several prominent Janesville physicians expressed themselves as filled with apprehension at the appalling death rate which follows the fatal cerebro-spinal meningitis or spotted fever and said that the disease is liable to appear in Wisconsin at any warning. Four non-epidemic cases, under medical control, at Chicago are being watched with a great deal of interest by scientists. More than 550 deaths resulted from this disease in New York last month and 110 deaths from the same cause were reported last week.

Epidemic Is Mysterious
Epidemic cerebro-spinal meningitis is an inflammation of the spinal cord and brain. The disease visited the United States in 1866 for the first time and since then there has been no epidemic of an alarming nature. The disease has a high rate of mortality ranging from 20 to 55 of every 100 attacked. Few cases of recovery are on record and even then the patient remains in a constant state of nervous prostration during his life. The disease is frequently referred to as spotted fever, pestilential fever or black death. It is caused by micro-organisms which appear in the cells of the inflamed parts in pairs. It has been definitely shown that these organisms are the cause of the disease, but medical men are entirely ignorant as to the means by which these germs pass from the sick to the well or through the portal of entry into the individual. It is known that the disease is not contagious, but infectious, that is, some unknown medium must be transported from one person to another. It has been supposed by some scientists on rather incomplete evidence that the germ is a frequent inhabitant of the mouth and under special conditions, enters the system through the tonsils and makes its way by means of the blood and lymph to the brain.

No Cure Known
Physicians are entirely ignorant as to an effective treatment of the disease and prefer not to offer definite suggestions as to its prevention. It is undoubtedly true, however, that anything which maintains the general vitality of the body will be of service in warding off the disease.

Causes, Unknown
The causes of the disease are not known, but it is observed that fatal results usually follow in cases where the person attacked is weak physically or is overworked mentally. It is ravages are most felt in the spring and winter and in the crowded districts of the large cities where there is bad drainage provisions. Violent cases, however, are known to occur in remote country districts.

LAST RITES FOR CHARLES WOLCOTT

Was Buried in the Cemetery Here on Sunday Last—Touching Tributes.

On Sunday last the funeral of the late Charles L. Wolcott, who died suddenly in Princeton, Illinois, was held from the home of his brother, A. S. Wolcott, 108 Linn street. Rev. Henderson read the service and a quartette consisting of Miss Cora Anderson, Mrs. Clark, Mr. Paris and Mr. Van Pool sang the hymns, "Lead Kindly Light" and "Beckoning Hands at the Gateway Tonight." Charles L. Wolcott was born in Jefferson county in 1864 and died at Princeton, Illinois, April 5, 1905. He leaves to mourn his loss: a mother, Mrs. Emilie Schwets of Hortonville; a brother, A. S. Wolcott of Janesville; and six sisters, Mrs. Alvira Schomberg of River Falls, Miss Emma Wolcott of Janesville, Mrs. Fred Stephens of Chicago, Mrs. Henry McNett of Hortonville, Miss Wolcott of Milwaukee, and Mrs. Otto Wagner of Johnsons Creek. The esteem with which Mr. Wolcott was held in Princeton where he spent the last ten years of his life, is illustrated by the following clipping from the Tribune of that city:

Charles L. Wolcott, formerly principal of the Footville school, and a graduate of Valparaiso, Indiana, normal school, came to Princeton, Illinois in 1898 and for the last seven years has been a faithful employee at the American House, died suddenly Wednesday afternoon after a short illness of pneumonia. About a week ago he was taken sick and Dr. Barrett pronounced his disease pneumonia. Everything possible was done for him by his physician, and Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, and for the past few days he seemed to be gaining rapidly. In fact he was getting better. Wednesday afternoon, however, he suddenly grew worse and before the doctor reached him, up to a late hour Thursday afternoon the Masonic brethren—Mr. Wolcott was a mason—were unable to locate his friends although they had telegraphed to the lodge at Evanston, his old home. Thursday afternoon word was received from Mr. Wolcott's brother in Janesville, saying he would arrive in Princeton Friday, (today,) to take charge of the remains. The pall bearers at the funeral on Sunday were Jay Walker, P. C. Cobben, R. P. Kay, G. A. Hoeland, T. A. Hoeland and G. A. Hoeland. Many friends of Mr. Wolcott paid their last token of esteem for him by their attentions and the beautiful floral decorations they sent.

OPPORTUNITY RAPS: CITY IS SNOOZING

Forepaugh-Sells Circus Winter Quarters Likely to Go to Some Neighboring Town

Bower city visitors at the Ringling Bros. circus, which opened in the Coliseum, Chicago, this week, thought Charles Ringling regarding the probability of Janesville's securing the winter quarters of the Forepaugh-Sells circus, which are shortly to be removed from Columbus, Ohio, to some southern Wisconsin or northern Illinois city. It develops that Freeport, Rockford, and Madison have come to the front with good propositions but Janesville has not been heard from by the Ringlings, though the matter has been discussed here for a month past. Charles Ringling says that as far as he personally is concerned he would rather see the headquarters in Janesville than in any other place in the United States. Two of his brothers, however, think well of Rockford. Speaking of the matter, he said: "As yet we have not decided on any city, but when such decision is made it will mean a city not many miles from the Illinois-Wisconsin line. We would like a site of about 20 acres with suitable buildings and prefer a location just outside the city limits so as to escape taxation. We would also like it not too far from the railroad. Madison has offered us a free site near the university athletic field, but we think Madison too near Columbus. Janesville, in my opinion, would make a good place. This year we have put as much money into the Forepaugh-Sells show as it originally cost us. We have added 150 head of horses and today the Forepaugh-Sells show is, in size, the equal of any show in America. We are not asking for a bonus but nevertheless would be pleased to consider a proposition from the business men of Janesville."

MELANGE OF GOOD VAUDEVILLE ACTS

Being Presented at West Side Theatre This Week—Last Night's Audience Delighted

This week's bill at the West Side theatre is a melange of exceptionally fine vaudeville feature acts. The audience last evening completely filled the auditorium and was greatly pleased with every artist, showing appreciation by profuse applause.

JULE WALTERS, APPEARING AT WEST SIDE THIS WEEK.

Arthur Stewart opened the performance in a seemingly dry manner, but before the end of his act completely captivated his listeners with original songs to and about them. George Hatch renders two new illustrated songs—"The Man With the Ladder and the Horse" and "Fare Thee Well, Mollie Darling." The Pettit family of four are probably the most wonderful stage acrobats that have ever been seen in this city, and each one exhibits strength, agility and grace. The character dancing of La Adella delights. Mr. and Mrs. Jules Walters and company is a short one-act comedy and the projectoscope also furnishes much amusement.

MASS CONVENTION OF LABOR UNIONS

Held at Assembly Hall Was Well Attended, and Evening Proved Delightful One.

There was a large attendance at the semi-annual mass-meeting of the labor unions at Assembly hall last evening. Frank J. Weber of Milwaukee, state organizer of the Wisconsin federation, delivered a very interesting and appropriate address on the union movement and President Osborn, George Beatty, and others spoke on the work in Janesville. The Imperial band rendered several selections and vocal numbers were given by George Hatch, William Carbutt, Anton Hamauska, and George Beatty. The Concordia Singing society also received a warm welcome and responded to an encore. In charge of the arrangements were A. Fred Schmidt, Richard Lee, S. A. Cooper, C. W. Forest, and T. J. McKelvey.

WISCONSIN'S JUNIOR SENATOR.

Collier's for April 15 is authority for the statement that the junior Senator-elect from Wisconsin may remain the governor of that state for some months, possibly a year, possibly two years more. He set out ten years ago to get done certain things for what he deemed Wisconsin's good. Most of them—and a few more—are done. He is ambitious, and many suppose that he proposed his reforms for the purpose of achieving for himself a United States senatorship. Yet he stands in the capitol at Madison, while the seat to which he was elected two months ago waits vacant for him in the capitol at Washington. What is the matter?
One of the things Mr. La Follette undertook to do remains undone. He promised, and his party promised, and his legislators promised, by implication and by explicit declaration, to enact a law giving to a state commission authority to regulate railroad rates. Without counting National (Stalwart) Republicans, Wisconsin elected a sufficient majority of Wisconsin republicans to pass such a bill, but the state senate is in doubt. We understand that a few pledged senators have been taken into "camp" by a corrupt railroad lobby organization across the street from the capitol, and that, until the question whether those men have bought off or not is settled by their votes on this bill, the democrat who is the republican leader of Wisconsin will not know himself whether he can go to the United States senate. We believe that when the citizens of Wisconsin hear that some of their state senators, sent to Madison to represent them, have been purchased by the railroads, they will rise and say some things which will send the rate bill through. But if they don't, we understand that the governor will stay in Wisconsin and finish his job.

This is the kind of sentiment which has graced the editorial page of Collier's Weekly, and similar publications, for the past year or more. The writers responsible seem possessed of the notion that the state of Wisconsin is populated by a lot of imbecils, incapable of taking care of themselves, and dependent upon an all-wise governor for direction.

The ignorance displayed by this class of journals is deplorable. No state in the union has been more free from turmoil and internal strife for the past quarter century than the old Badger state. With its strong German constituency the commonwealth has long been noted for level headed common sense.

The state, with its diversified industries, has moved to the front, and transportation companies have worked hard in hand with manufacturers and prosperity has crowned effort in large degree.

No taint of corruption annoyed the people until an ambitious governor, whose success was accomplished through appeals to prejudice, sprang into the arena as a full fledged reformer. Rule or ruin was his watchword and his ambition is not yet satisfied.

The men of the east who write so glibly of Wisconsin politics and conditions may know a little of the situation through what they have read, but the men who have been on the ground for 40 years and who have had to do with the building of the state, are possessed of knowledge gained by experience.

Wisconsin today, as well as half a dozen other western states, is suffering from a spasm of socialism masquerading under the guise of reform and publications like the Colliers, are thoughtlessly adding fuel to the flame. Mr. Bryan represents all that is left of live democracy today and Bryanism will control the next national democratic convention.

The erratic governor of Wisconsin is a twin brother to the Nebraska leader, and he appeals to revolutionize the republican party and capture the presidential nomination in 1908. That will be a fine aggregation. Which horn of the dilemma will Collier's support?

THE PUBLIC DOMAIN.

The opening of the Utah Indian Reservation Sept. 1, 1905, will throw on the market 2,425,000 acres of arable land in the state of Utah, and will interest homeseekers in all parts of the country. The land is thus described in a pamphlet recently issued by the Denver and Rio Grande railroad. More complete information can be obtained through S. D.

Knowles, general agent at Milwaukee.
"This tract of land lies in Utah and Wasatch Counties in Utah. It extends from Green River on the east to within a short distance of Heber, county seat of Wasatch county, on the west, and to the crest of the Great Utah Mountain Range on the north, and comprising land rich in mineral and agricultural possibilities. From the confluence of the Utah and Duchesne Rivers, at an altitude of about 4,000 feet above sea-level, the mesa lands rise in plateaus increasing in height as they stretch out towards the great mountains, bordered with emerald forests of spruce and pine and then stretching up and up far above timber line. The snow peaks stand out boldly and apparently within a stone's throw, but in reality from 50 to 100 miles distant. Within this magnificent domain, sheltered by the mighty mountains which rise to the north and west lie the rich valleys of the Strawberry, Duchesne and Utah Rivers, forming the great Utah basin. The climate is temperate, with almost perpetual sunshine, the mountain ranges warding off the cold basis of winter and protecting the valley from the hot winds of midsummer. The nights are cool and refreshing during the summer season and there are few places where vegetation grows so luxuriantly without the penalty of oppressive heat. The soil is a sedimentary deposit of vegetable mold, the heritage of an ancient inland sea, and is watered by the Duchesne and the Utah Rivers, also by the many dashing streams from mountain canons, which, uniting through numerous channels, afford excellent facilities for irrigation, while many of these streams, with abundant fall afford water power of enormous value.

THE WISCONSIN HEALTH PARK.

Gazette readers are familiar with the efforts which have been made to establish a health park for the open air treatment of tubercular diseases in the pine woods of Tomahawk, in the northern part of the state.

Two hundred and forty acres of land has been secured for the park and through the efforts of Dr. W. P.
Roberts the philanthropic work has been started. An effort was made two years ago to secure a small appropriation from the state to aid in the work and a similar effort is now being made.

Opposition however has developed and a bill is now pending asking for $50,000 to establish a state sanitarium for consumptives, the same to be under state supervision.

The promoters of the health park proposition are opposed to this measure and claim that an appropriation of $5,000 to their enterprise would accomplish more than could be accomplished by a state institution.

Inasmuch as the open air camp and outdoor life is recognized as the best treatment for tubercular diseases it would seem that the Health Park management have the best end of the argument. While it might be gratifying to the board of health to have the supervision of a state sanitarium, the scheme has but little to commend it when the character of the disease is taken into account.

Victims of consumption are constantly seeking health in climates where they can live out of doors, and if fresh air is the great panacea for the disease and Wisconsin air can be utilized, as the Health Park men claim, then the matter should be tested.

Atlantic City has formed an Osler Club. The membership age is from 40 to 45 and while the club has not yet decided what it will do with members when they reach the age of 60, they will probably call on Osler to behead them, or administer a dose of chloroform. Old age is a crime according to Osler.

Much is said about what the assembly will do with a rate bill. There is no occasion for speculation about the assembly. That body is acting under orders, and it will do whatever the governor wants done. The senate is another proposition and this is the only organization that stands between the governor and his ambition for a fourth term. What will the senate do?

The two-cent railroad fare bill is a snare and delusion. The man who travels 5,000 miles is entitled to a better rate than the man who travels 100 miles, just the same as a man who buys a carload of goods is entitled to a better price than the man who buys a single case of the same goods.

The governor and his supporters will never be happy until the state places itself on a level with Iowa, so far as railroad legislation is concerned. The manufacturing interests of the state are of but little consequence as compared to a hobby.

Some one has very truthfully said, that the man who works for just what he receives, never receives more than he works for. That class of workmen are outside the line of promotion.

The mayor says that he proposes to enforce the law. What has he been doing for the past eight months? Plenty of drunks on the streets last Sunday.

The unwritten laws which govern in business can never be successfully legislated out of existence. The large dealer and large consumer will continue to be desirable customers.

Repair the old capitol building and the people will be satisfied. There is no demand for a new building at a cost of from three to eight million dollars.

A minimum wage scale means that a poor workman commands the wages of an expert. The principle is wrong.

If Texas is a model of reform, and Iowa perfect, what's the matter with Kansas?

Superior Telegram: The North Dais that the usual home-made obituary verses are such an atrocious travesty on real poetry that the publishers don't like to allow people to make themselves ridiculous and unwittingly burlesque their beloved dead unless there is good money in it.

Milwaukee Free Press: When

"Many people have been rejoicing the article following it begins, "Many

Rockford Register Gazette: The

Lovejoy farm, for more than half a mile the little anemones are especially plentiful. The many parties who were out last spring and brought back baskets full of the early blossoms, do not need to be told of their favorite haunts. The flowers are quite lasting, and many are sent every year through the mail to friends at a distance, proving a rarity in most parts, as they are native only to very small section of the United States.

Minneapolis Journal: Some twin city scandal, says the Red Lake Falls Courier, have been securing names of old persons as soon as they died, and then sending a letter and a pair of spectacles by mail to the address of the dead person. The letter says that the spectacles have been forwarded as per order and the bill is $7. The sentiment of the situation immediately appears to the relatives. They look upon the spectacles as memento of the dead, something ordered and never worn. The package, worth perhaps 50 cents, is paid for and kept as a remembrance. The postoffice department is after these parties.

The fact has been proven that a efficient baking ability of Rock coun-are more good cooks around this sec-

Severe Law for Debtors.

The worst thing that can happen to a man in Siam is to get into debt, from which there is never any escape, owing to the exorbitant interest charged. Once in debt there is no appeal, the debtor being stripped of his clothes and compelled to work in fetters, generally for the rest of his life, to pay the interest. Debtors are not permitted to give evidence in the law courts of Siam.

THREE HUNDRED WOMEN IN CITY

STATE CONVENTION OF ROYAL NEIGHBORS IN SESSION.

BIENNIAL CAMP HERE TODAY

Gather to Elect Officers and to Choose Delegates to National Meeting.

Three hundred or more delegates and visitors from various Royal Neighbor camps of Wisconsin are in the city today for the biennial state camp in session in the East Side Odd Fellows hall. The business of the convention is to elect delegates from the state to the national meeting at Topeka, Kansas, in June and choose state officers. There is a light on with all the political convention features, between Mrs. Viola Newman and Mrs. Fennio of Milwaukee, for the position of delegate to the supreme camp from the fourth district.

The state camp of Royal Neighbors was called to order at ten o'clock this morning in the East Side Odd Fellows hall by State Oracle Mrs. Eva Childs of Hanover. A very excellent program of music and addresses was rendered in the way of an opening for the convention and welcome to the delegates and visiting neighbors. Mrs. Anna Morse of this city made the address of welcome and had charge of the program, which was as follows:

Invocation—Rev. R. C. Denison. Song—Y. M. C. A. Trio (J. C. Kline, Dr. F. T. Richards, D. D. Siver). Address of Welcome in Behalf of City—Mayor Hutchinson.

Address of Welcome in Behalf of Modern Woodmen—H. D. Murdoch, Venerable Consul of Florence Camp, Janesville.

Address of Welcome in Behalf of Triumph Camp, Royal Neighbors of Janesville—Mrs. Etta Gibson, Oracle.

Remarks—National Lecturer C. E. Whelen of Madison.

Song, "Your As Welcome as the Flowers in May"—Mary Ludden and Grant Hyde.

Address—Mrs. Eva Childs, State Oracle and Supreme Receiver.

Each number was most heartily received by the convention and great credit is due those who prepared and arranged the program. The songs were all original, the words being composed by Mrs. Childs.

Many Flowers

Immense bouquets containing several dozens of roses were presented to Mrs. Childs from the Bower City and Merchants & Mechanics' banks of this city, the two institutions that are now handling the funds of the order. Another bouquet of roses was presented from Marie Camp No. 310 of Hanover. Mrs. Childs' home lodge, of which she is a charter member, a number of bouquets of carnations and flowers were also sent to Mrs. Childs from friends.

At the close of the program the convention officers and committees were appointed. The officers are as follows:

State vice oracle—Mrs. Etta Jones, Black River Falls; marshal—Mrs. Bertha Ehringer, Hanover; chancellor—Miss Alice Mortimer, Boscobel; past oracle—Mrs. Bertha Borsard, Spring Green; inner sentinel—Mary Larso, South Wayne; outer sentinel—Miss Helen Schmidt, Athens.

Credentialed Committee

The committee to examine and pass on the credentials of the delegates was appointed as follows: Mrs. Viola Newman (chairman), Milwaukee; Mrs. Susie Howe, Highland; and Mrs. Jessie Palmer, Mauston.

Resolution Committee

The committee on resolutions is comprised of the following: Mrs. Mabel Thorne (chairman), Afton; Mrs. Mattie Ash, Edgerton; Mrs. T. Nicholson, Green Bay; Mrs. L. O. Kirmse, West Salem; and Mrs. Mary Kopplin, Wausau.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS HAVE RECEPTION

MRS. EVA CHILDS HOSTESS AT A PLEASANT GATHERING.

THEIR CONVENTION TODAY

A Hundred and Fifty Delegates and Their Friends Enjoy a Pleasant Evening.

Mrs. Eva Childs made a most delightful hostess at the reception tendered by her to the Royal Neighbor delegates and invited guests at the Hotel Myers last evening. As a prelude to the happy occasion, the

MRS. EVA CHILDS

Footville band gave a complimentary concert to the visiting neighbors in front of the hotel at eight o'clock.

Many Present

All day yesterday delegates to the Royal Neighbors' convention to be held today, continued to arrive. They were met at the depots by members of the local camp and escorted to the hotels in carriages with large banners. At the reception given by Mrs. Childs last evening fully a hundred and fifty ladies and their escorts were present and from eight until ten a most delightful two hours was spent.

Was Assisted

Mrs. Childs was assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. H. S. McGiffin, Mr. and Mrs. A. Gibson, Dr. and Mrs. R. W. Edden, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Murdoch, and Orville Morse. In the dining room light refreshments were served, which were presided over by Misses Maud Murdoch, Carrie Beckwith and Maude Dennett.

Were Very Busy

Aside from the social feature last evening, there was an undercurrent of politics which was a prelude to today's selection of delegates to the supreme lodge of the order. Mrs. Viola Newman of Milwaukee and Mrs. Ponce of the same city are the two contesting candidates for the position. Each candidate had their workers and the chat of the evening was upon this subject and upon the selection of a candidate for endorsement as member of the national board of managers.

WONDERFUL ACTS OF RAYMOND KELLY

Fastest Short Hand Man in the World Gives Exhibition of His Skill.

Raymond P. Kelly, the fastest shorthand writer in America, gave an exhibition of his phenomenal speed at the Southern Wisconsin Business college this morning. All his tests were made on a blackboard and he developed 250 words a minute several different times, and while blindfolded put 197 words on the board in a minute and read his notes without an error. Under favorable conditions his record is 315 words a minute. A peculiar test was given him in dictation in Greek. Mr. Kelly taking the material and repeating it correctly from his notes, although unable himself to understand the language. A like demonstration was given in Norwegian.

TAKING A CENSUS OF MANUFACTORIES

J. A. Denniston Has Been Appointed Special Agent for Rock County of U. S. Dept. of Commerce.

J. A. Denniston, special agent for the United States Department of Commerce and Labor, is engaged in the work of securing the statistics of all the business enterprises in Rock county. Manufactories and in fact all productive concerns are called upon to furnish exhaustive details of their earnings, the number of men employed and their wages; the raw materials used, the cost of by-products, and the quality and quantity of power employed. The work was commenced by Mr. Denniston on March 28 and he hopes to complete it in from 60 to 90 days. The census is for the year 1905 but is in reality concerned with the year 1904 as actual statistics and not estimates are required. All information secured by the government is regarded as confidential and Mr. Denniston is under heavy bonds. The purpose of the work is to secure the necessary material for statistics of a general nature which will show the conditions, relations and location of the various industries in this country. The last census of the kind was taken in 1900. The special agent was a caller at the Gazette office this morning.

Our Offering

Our stock of wall-paper for this spring is the largest and we think the best ever shown in the city. Rich in novel designs and fine colorings. See this line at Skelly's bookstore before you buy.

BEST COMIC OPERA HERE THIS SEASON

Every Member of Big Audience Present at the Myers Was Delighted with "Yankee Consul."

Long after other comedians have come and gone, the altogether delightful personality of Raymond Hitchcock will live in the recollections of those who saw him in "The Yankee Consul" at the Myers Grand last evening. Whether the recurring picture shows him pajama-clad in the little balcony reproaching the U. S. gunboat officer for disturbing his late morning slumbers; descending in the same automatic balcony to greet the unwelcome visitor; plucking the artificial grass-hopper from the empty assistant glass and rebuking the waitress with ulterior design; singing in mournful, but not quite hopeless cadences of "What a Difference a Few Hours Make" and "It's Not As It Used to Be in the Days of Old," braggings to the proud Castilian beauty-with-the-half-million, of his "most shady" family tree, and courting her with a book; whatever be the character of the old impression and experience again called to mind, it will be certain to afford genuine pleasure. For the first cause was genuine. Grotesque make-up and clownish antics were not resorted to, the real humor of the lines and situations sufficing. The fun was quiet and refined and the maker presupposed some intelligence on the part of his audience. Somewhat worldly-weary and never forgetful of the drawbacks to all happiness for the man who is engaged in no useful pursuit, "Abigail Boozie" entered into the joys about him and calculated on that half-million—his sole ambition—without too much caution, droning on his mild complaints against commentaries on life as he found it, in a manner that convulsed his hearers with merriment.

Eve Davenport played the part of "Donna Teresa," the widow possessed of much wealth and avowdupois, in a manner intensely amusing, while Rose Botti in the subterfuge role and Flora Zabelle as "Bonita" were almost equal favorites with the audience in their singing and dancing parts. Albert Parr with his pleasing voice was the conventional naval hero who puts in an appearance in all comic operas shortly after the grand opening chorus and William Danforth coming chorus and William Danforth made a sufficiently "terrific" war-governor of Puerto Plata. His secretary, the German wigmaker "Celnubler," was a part well taken by J. E. Hazzard and his description of the "herring" was one of the parts of his "business that connected."

The principals are supported by a well drilled and graceful chorus, the work of the double male quartette and the mosquito girls being worthy of passing mention. Like all the Savage offerings, the production is simultaneously and artistically staged, the scenery and costumes being exceptionally beautiful and effective. The music by Alfred G. Robyn is catchy and the lines by Blossom, who constructed "Checkers," are more than ordinarily bright. The production carries its own orchestra and it is a very fine one. The audience was a large one, an unusually large number of visitors coming from Beloit and other neighboring cities.

Sieve Polisky, aged 40, died at Pana, Ill., as the result of internal injuries received some time ago.

Excellent Season Is Promised to the Players—Club Service May First.

Indications point to a season of unusual length as well as pleasure at the golf links. Hereafter it has been the custom to formally open the big playground on May 30. This year, unless the weather man interfering, a veto that cannot be disregarded, Caterer Harry Reeder will spread the snowy linen first on May 1st. In the meantime several important improvements will have been made to the kitchen and a motor for pumping water as well as electric lights installed in the club house.

The turf emerges from its winter covering of snow in finer condition than ever before and will soon be in perfect shape for the year's wear. As soon as they are dry the tennis courts will also be ready for the players and it is certain that they will receive unusual attention this season, the game itself being in a fair way to regain its old time prestige and favor.

The membership list is growing steadily, the names of several new applicants having been favorably passed upon, and the club will be passed this season than ever before. The work of arranging the schedule of games with outside clubs will be commenced at once.

FAVORS TENANTS WITH CHILDREN

Prefers to Have the Little Ones Around His Houses, as Parents Are Less Inclined to Move and Ask Few Improvements.

New York, April 11.—If President Roosevelt were in the knighting business, it is a pretty safe guess that about the first person to get into favor when the first gentleman of the land returns from the West would be John Monaghan of the Bronx.

Mr. Monaghan is a man after the president's own heart. He has three apartment houses, and refuses to rent to tenants who are without children. He is building two more houses for families with children, and he hopes to have eighteen apartment buildings where children will be at a premium.

Time to Act.

This is what the remarkable landlord, who is also a clerk in the second district court, says of his unusual course:

"It may be a queer thing for a landlord to invite families with children into his houses, but that's what I am doing. Why, I have seen so much suffering from this inhuman prohibition against children in apartments that I think it is time to act.

"I have three houses that are all filled with children, and I am putting up two more. It is my desire and intention to own eighteen apartment houses, all for the exclusive use of families with children.

"I have five children myself. What would I do if the landlord chased my family from pillar to post as though we were infected creatures? I suppose other landlords will say I am eccentric. It isn't eccentricity, it is humanity.

Tenants Are Proliferous.

"Since I have been at the court I have seen many pathetic instances of the apartment-house crusade against children. Landlords take advantage of the five days' notice law and put families with children out into the street because some tenant complains.

"In one of my houses not long ago a very nice old lady had an apartment. She had raised a big family, too, but other people's children annoyed her. She complained to me and I had to tell her that she would have to leave.

"I went down to my agent and told him that I had apartments for rent, but that no one without children would be allowed. He thought I had gone crazy at first, but inside of an hour I had a tenant.

Prefers the Children.

"Families with children are good tenants from a business standpoint. They are not fussy and they are not always asking for improvements. Another thing: Families with children stay a long time—they are not always moving.
